amorata

Amorata, the highly popular Bristol based theatrical vocal ensemble, was formed in 2003 by a group of musicians whose aim is to combine a unified and polished sound with an exciting visual interpretation of music. They believe that the performance of music should, at all times, be a passionate and magical experience for both the audience and the performers.

Experience the passion and magic that is Amorata

“I laughed, cried, and was sorry when it ended” - AD

“Thought your performance was wonderful really hits those emotions.” - VT

Emotions in song

Amorata's repertoire is eclectic, and whether they are moving seductively to 'Razzle Dazzle' or touching your heart with the uplifting music of Helen Chadwick, you'll be charmed by their effortless harmony and ability to convey stories and emotions in song. Amorata's performance style is deliberately versatile allowing the group to perform in a variety of venues from country houses to churches, hotels to theatres and community centres. Indeed wherever music and passion can come together.
